to bless the work of the Manitoba
Women's Hospital Auxiliaries Association, and to further with Thy continual help those who labor in it, in Thy love and for Thy glory.
Grant us lowliness of spirit, steadfastness of faith, perseverance in all good works, and bring us at last to Thy heavenly Kingdom, through Jesus Christ our Lord.*

Amen.

President's Address and Welcome to Delegates

Members and friends of the Manitoba Women's Hospital Aids Association it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to our fifth Annual Meeting. We are very happy to have you with us and hope that you will get some worthwhile ideas from the reports that you will hear.

It was with regret that we accepted the resignation of our President Mrs. A.E. Hoskin due to ill health. Mrs. Hoskin will be present today and I know that we all hope that she will continue to regain her health and strength.

Your executive made many visits to help form new Aids. Written requests were made for information as to the method of conducting the work of Hospital Aids. We who made the visits had a most interesting and enjoyable time. It was a pleasure to us all to meet members of the various Aids, their hospitality was very deeply appreciated.

We also enjoyed visiting the new hospitals and seeing the excellent equipment and tasteful furnishings, mostly donated by the Hospital Aids. It is rightly said that a Women's Hospital Aid is beyond price to a Hospital, especially in the field of Public Relations, where they can interpret the work of the Hospital to the general public. It is difficult for men to realize the tremendous amount of time and effort that goes into raising funds for this work. I think that Manitoba can be justly proud of their Hospital Aids.

I do not want to take up too much of your time as there are many excellent reports to follow, but would like to tell you of the impression I gained of our Minister of Health, The Hon. Paul Martin, when he opened the Biennial Meeting of the Canadian Hospital Council in Ottawa, last May. As you know the Hon. Paul Martin spoke on the National Health Plan. He was introduced by Sister M. Evangeline of Pembroke, Ontario, the birthplace of the Minister of Health. Her introduction was a wonderful presentation. She spoke of Paul, as she called him, when he was stricken with Infantile Paralysis at the age of three, and of the love and devotion of his Mother and brother - of his determination to go to school although badly crippled, so much so that his brother had to pull him to school in a wagon. After she had concluded it was some minutes before Mr. Martin could speak as he was so deeply moved by what she had said. I think that we who were present realized that the Minister of Health for Canada was a man who would have the interests of the sick and crippled, in mind, when allotting funds for the purpose of treatment and better accommodation.

Through the generosity of the Associated Hospitals of Manitoba, the Winnipeg Foundation and the Department of Health, Mrs. George, Miss Macleod and myself were privileged to go to Ottawa to help form a National Council of Hospital Auxiliaries. Miss Macleod will tell you about this in her report.

May I express my very deep appreciation of the wonderful help and co-operation that I have received from all members of the executive. Without their help it would not have been possible to accomplish the work that has been done.

Respectfully submitted,

Violet P. Fillmore.

Secretary's Report

Madam President and Ladies:

This is such an important Annual Meeting, it is hard to know what one can afford to leave unsaid. Many of you remember that memorable gathering to set plans in motion for a Provincial Women's Hospital Aid on November 1, 1946. Now it is almost an accomplished five year plan. Our first President, Mrs. Milton George, in her quiet, unassuming manner had misgivings -- wondering how we could justify our existence. How very, very far she has gone with her work since those groping days. Maybe our most recent recognition should be related at the outset. The historic birth of The National Canadian Council of Hospital Auxiliaries in Ottawa, May 29, 1951. That grand woman, Mrs. Oliver Rhynas, was elected President.

The purpose of said Council is mainly assistance, development and operation of hospitals in Canada; to foster closer relationships with Provincial Hospital Auxiliaries and all allied hospital, health and nursing services; to help clarify problems of concern in extending health and hospitalization in Canada. The purpose is truly worthwhile and deserves our unstinted efforts to make it work.

It surely was an honor for your three Manitoba representatives to be there: Mrs. Milton George, your past President, Mrs. W.P. Fillmore, your President, and Miss Christina Macleod, your Secretary. Nine women sat around the table and after queries, replies and explanations among ourselves, we were joined by four men outstanding in hospital affairs, namely, Judge Milton George, K.C., President of the Associated Hospitals of Manitoba, Mr. Fraser Armstrong, Superintendent, Kingston General Hospital, and President of Canadian Hospital Council, Mr. Percy Ward, Executive Secretary, B.C. Hospitals Association, and Dr. Harvey Agnew, Hospital Consultant for Canada. The words of wisdom and guidance from these men were much appreciated.

To do justice to what was accomplished in Ottawa at that and other meetings would take more time and space than are at my disposal. In a letter from Mrs. Rhynas which will be read immediately following this report, she says: "If any are interested in having copies of this Souvenir Brochure, it is ten cents a copy. The Brochure gives a short resume of what took place at our first meeting." Please take note of Mrs. Rhynas' important offer.

An address, "Three Years of Health Progress," was given by Honourable Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare. By the way, this was the first time he had revealed the five-point change in his Extension of Federal Health Grants. Three years ago, had some of you heard Mr. Martin's program, it would have meant little to you -- but what an insight Manitoba women have had into such matters in the last few years and what a great part in the scheme has been yours.

We sat in on the Canadian Hospital Council meetings. We heard Honourable Paul Martin three times, and we had the distinct honor of an address from the Prime Minister in the Railway Committee Room in the House of Commons, and furthermore attended part of a session in the House and heard Mr. George Drew expounding on the rising costs of paper -- which we ourselves have since felt in our daily newspapers.

When I tell you we arrived in Ottawa Monday, 7.15 A.M., registered, queued up for breakfast and lost no time in getting to the Chateau Laurier where the Hospital Council was in session, and that our own meeting broke up at 1.40 next morning, you can imagine what we packed into our short time spent in Ottawa. We even climbed to the very top of the Peace Tower for good measure.

I started out by telling you it was hard to know what to leave unsaid, but as you have to carry much back to your respective Aids and Guilds, this report is fuller than usual. The Annual Reports when printed are read by those people you left at home and also by yourselves.

On January 10, 1951, your 1950 President, Mrs. Hoskin, wrote me saying that after two serious heart attacks, her doctor had ordered her to give up all work on committees, etc., in the future. She regretted having to resign as President of the Manitoba Women's Hospital Aids Association. Our first Vice-President, Mrs. Art Williams, felt she was not able to take over at that time and Mrs. W.P. Fillmore was urged to fill the vacancy. Mrs. F.S. Burgess, of Neepawa, second Vice-President, resigned due to ill health, and Mrs. F.B.C. Richardson, of Portage la Prairie, a District Representative, resigned owing to pressure of other work. Mrs. Percy Murray, Neepawa, filled the last-named vacancy for the remainder of the year. All these changes were conveyed to you in your letters from the Association. Once again may I ask that letters be passed on so that as many as possible know what we are doing and planning.

The value of hospital aids and guilds got more publicity than ever before through the medium of newspapers, radio and rag drives -- all these are reminders to others of your great work. Team work plays such a vital and stimulating role, as well as setting a good example. Could there be better human relations than our desire to work together in harmony? What are your ideas worth? How many of you are going back with new ideas and yet feel gratified your contribution to the cause helped someone else. "If we but remember that every vision has its price, every fidelity its reward." No one is more convinced of the greatness of hospital aids than yours truly. I dedicate my work in this Association to the Brandon Women's Hospital Aid Society, without whose work and courage I could not have carried on in those dark days of the so-called hungry thirties. No doubt by now some of you are thinking this does not read like a Secretary's report. Were I to give you figures of what we have done, how many of you would care to listen to them?

However, don't think you are getting away without having to carry your responsibilities back to your colleagues. Five of your Provincial Association were present at the opening of the new hospital at Neepawa. Three, together with Kay O'Neill from Radio Station C.B.W., went to Roland, toured their beautiful new hospital and attended their meeting. What an alert group of women we met there. Getting to and from these visits we are most deeply indebted to Mrs. A.M. Oswald for the use of her car and her time. In May your President and Secretary were happy to be visiting Dauphin General Hospital, accompanied by members of their Aid when new kitchen equipment had just arrived -- it is a thrill to see the women's handwork turned into such use. As your President could not make Neepawa and Reston appointments two days in succession, she sent your Secretary. It was the Reston organization meeting and what a pleasure it was to meet those enthusiastic women. The big political meeting at Virden that night caused absentees, but forty-two assembled and got right down to business. I took the chair and answered many questions before nomination of officers took place. Not one of those women had ever taken part in such work, but before we left the hall that night there were twenty-five paid members at a $1.00 membership fee. What a response when you know that women don't always carry money with them. Their hospital is not yet opened -- but they have worked hard and please listen to their report to hear their results. There are other new Aids at Elma, Miami, Rennie, Seven Sisters, Stonewall and MacGregor.

A question bothering many Aids -- how can they get a representative on their Hospital Boards? Many have representatives and boards are finding that their auxiliaries are valuable and Aids themselves must keep on trying to educate their Boards. Where hospitals were or are being built under Health Welfare scheme, these Hospital Boards are appointed by that body. It is ever to be remembered that Auxiliaries do not dictate -- remember my opening remark on purpose.

Your members on the Provincial Council of Women have gained much from that association. Your executive have endeavoured to answer whenever a call was made upon them. Our trip to Ottawa was made possible by the generosity of The Associated Hospitals of Manitoba, the Department of Health and Public Welfare through the kindness of Honourable Ivan Schultz, and the Winnipeg Foundation, through Mr. Peter Lowe. Letters of thanks have gone to the respective organizations, but again we say a very grateful "thank you." Requests for like donations are not to be repeated, so in future we must have some arrangement whereby such can be met. Our Public Relations Officer has done a grand job -- much of what she has done will not show up in her report. When Mrs. Konantz called me about the Rag Drive, we were without a President, but nevertheless I knew that whatever made money for our Aids would be acceptable to us and that we were solidly behind the White Cross in their Rag Drive.

Mrs. Dolores MacFarlane, writer on Health and Welfare Education, will be with us and all should take advantage of her literature. We thank her for assistance already given us.

Some of you will be attending your first provincial meeting. Please make yourselves known. In the rush of getting as much as possible packed into the time at our disposal, if we appear too busy to give you attention, try again. We are in this work together to put the most into it -- it is by giving that we receive.

In the past my reports were too short to suit some people, but this one is longer. Yet much has been left unsaid -- for instance, the increase in fees is due to higher costs of materials and postal rates. The change in name from Aids to Auxiliaries is due to confusion where Hospital Aids are employed in hospitals. The new report forms were for uniformity and again to save on the price of annual reports. These we hope to get printed and have for your use at winter meetings. We are looking forward to results from our Round Table discussions and questions and answers. A treat in store is the tour of Princess Elizabeth Hospital with a tea to follow. In September I attended their meeting and spoke to them and they are looking forward to our visit. Don't miss it. You are invited to view exhibits of the Associated Hospitals Convention -- they really are an education.

I had better conclude my report by thanking all those who have worked to make the year such a success: Your President has done everything possible to gain that success; Mrs. Oswald carried on my work during my absence from the City; and all the others who helped. The work of Hospital Auxiliaries is greater than anyone can relate. May God's blessing attend all your endeavours.

Respectfully submitted,

Christina Macleod.

Public Relations Report - 1951

Madam Chairman and Members of the Women's Hospital Aid Association -

It gives me great pleasure to present to you the first annual report on Public Relations of this Association.

As you all know the public relations of our organization are carried on daily by every member of this Association - by constant contact with the public through the various hospitals.

Every member of the Manitoba Women's Hospital Aid Association should at all times do her best to enlighten the public about the excellent work they are doing for the hospitals in this Province.

Here in Winnipeg we do our best to get out into the Country as much as possible but quite often the dates of the country meetings conflict with other meetings.

On Friday June 22nd, Mrs. Fillmore, Mrs. Danzinger, Mrs. Currie, Mrs. Blow (St. Andrews) and I drove to Neepawa to attend the official opening of their new hospital. A beautiful hospital it is with everything so completely modern and all done in pastel colors, such an agreeable change from the old style white interior. After the opening the Women's Hospital Aid ladies served a delightful tea.

While Miss Macleod was in Brandon she journeyed on to Reston on the 18th of June to act as Chairman at their organization meeting and to help set-up the new Aid. Twenty-five ladies took out membership at this meeting.

Roland Hospital Aid invited the members of the Executive Committee to attend their monthly meeting on Friday September 14th. Those attending were Mrs. Fillmore, Miss Macleod, Mrs. Oswald and Miss K. O'Neill from Radio Station C.B.C.

A most delightful visit was enjoyed - first the inspection of their new hospital unit which is complete to the last detail but cannot be opened because of lack of nursing staff - then a lovely tea was served and the monthly meeting followed at which time each one of your executive committee attending spoke to the Ladies of Roland. Mrs. R. Mullin, the President of Roland Hospital Aid was in the chair and made a very pleasing chairman.

The following Monday, September 24th, Miss O'Neill of C.B.C. gave her daily programme over the air and outlined details of the work being carried on by the Roland Hospital Aid Ladies for the local Hospital. Our sincere thanks, Miss O'Neill, for giving us so freely of your time and energy to further our hospital work.

Mr. Hanks, President of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, distributed to fifty-four country papers an article dealing with Hospital Aid work. The wide spread publication of this article will do a great deal to help our organization. I should like to record our appreciation to Mr. Hanks and his competent secretary Miss Hammond.

The Winnipeg Tribune and Free Press have both been very kind in giving us space in their papers the past week telling of this convention and are both represented here today to cover the annual meeting. I should very much like to move a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Verena Garrioch and Miss Lyne Chandler, representatives of the local papers for their attendance here today.

Radio Station CKY gave us time over the air on Friday, October 19th when Mrs. Fillmore your President and Miss Macleod your Recording Secretary spoke on Hospital work. Mrs. Alison Hellman was our leading light in this enterprise. To you Mrs. Hellman may I say thank you very much for your help and time in this valuable way of putting Hospital Aid work before the members and the public in general.

I have received a great measure of valuable assistance from Mrs. Dolores MacFarlane, Informational Writer, Department of Health and Public Welfare - without her help much of your public relations work would have been left undone. Thank you Mrs. MacFarlane for your invaluable help.

May I now bring this report to a close with thanking Mrs. Fillmore, Miss Macleod and many others of the Executive Committee for their loyal and splendid cooperation during the year just completed.

Aileen Oswald,
Public Relations Officer.

The Hospital Aid President attends Board meetings but does not have a vote.

Our Auxiliaries are our contacts with the community; National Hospital Day is not celebrated.

Our Aid, organized in 1949 and the money raised since inception, $14,582.81.

Our Hospital has bed capacity of adults 32, children 4.

Although there are no real problems presenting themselves, we could make use of suggestions on how to raise money in new ways.

The President is Mrs. Gordon Rusk.

VIRDEN HOSPITAL:

Mrs. Wm. McDonald.

Virden Hospital Aid Society raised money last year amounting to $3,237.73, by means of Tag Day, Spring Tea, fees collected, businessmen's donations, Fun Fair.

Our outstanding achievement was the Fun Fair, from which we realized $2,500.00.

Our effort for new Hospital, equipment; mending linens at Hospital done each week, sponsored Blood Donors Clinic in July.

Donations to present Hospital -- linens, stainless steel dishes, glass dishes, various small needs; $1,100.00 worth of linen on hand.

Donations to Nurses' Residence -- linens and Christmas remembrances.

We have a representative on the Hospital Board, and our contacts with our community come through our press reporter and our money raising activities.

Our problems are how to raise money; how to make the residents of the area more Hospital-Needs conscious; but prospects of new Hospital are looked forward to with pleasure and satisfaction.

The President is Mrs. Wm. McDonald.

Dr. O.T. Trainor's Address:

Madam President, Guests, Ladies: I must confess that when Miss MacLeod asked me to perform this function I must have had a temporary lapse of some kind, because I said 'Yes'. I think perhaps it is probably due to the long association I have had with Miss MacLeod in hospital organization. I have always found it practically impossible to say 'No', so I had better say 'Yes'. However, when I see this gathering, even if one had nothing at all in the way of facility of expression, it would be an inspiration because I have never seen such a large and enthusiastic group of ladies in the hospital field before.

I think you are to be congratulated in having developed such an interest in the hospital field. We in the field, of course, are probably prejudiced and we naturally think that the work is worth while. To those who are not associated with hospitals as their every day function, such interest in such numbers is heartening to administrators of hospitals and Boards of Trustees.

You ladies are doing an extremely useful work. We in the hospital field realize only too well how much you contribute to the operation of our hospitals. I would like to bring to you also the congratulations of the Canadian Hospital Council on your achievement in forming your own National Organization. Many of you have had this objective for many years. Personally I have listened to Mrs. Rhynas hold forth on many occasions, and it is gratifying indeed to realize at last that you have achieved your objective. This development is bound to lead on to greater things and greater service in the hospital field.

Many of you perhaps may at times get a little discouraged and feel that you are not doing as much as might be done. To any who may have feelings of discouragement, I would like to assure you that no matter how little you may do, it is always very welcome and the extent of your contribution will be measured only by the effort you put into it.

This brings up a subject that I have heard discussed on occasion as to the place of the Hospital Auxiliary in the Hospital Organization. I think that there should be a close integration of the Hospital Auxiliary and the Hospital Management and Administration, and perhaps that could be formalized to a degree so that there would be actually financial representation.

Some Aids have felt they were not sufficiently recognized by the Board of Trustees. I believe that the Hospital Aids should be entitled to financial representation on the Board of Trustees of their Hospitals. In the voluntary hospital it simply means obtaining the consent of the Board. In the municipal hospitals, unfortunately, the composition of the Board of Trustees is set by Statute. I would recommend that this Association make it as one of their objectives to seek an amendment of this legislation, to allow representation to the Boards of Trustees to all Municipal Hospitals. It is a reasonable request, and if you ladies are going to work for your hospital, you should have some information, financially, of the position your hospital is in; what its difficulties are; what financial position it is in; and if that information is forthcoming, you would be able to function more intelligently; and to a greater extent perform very necessary functions.

You may meet with some obstruction in this particular objective. I would suggest you persevere. The position is so eminently logical it would be very difficult to deny you such a place. You will naturally not seek domination, but you should have representation. Even such a modest request as one representative from the Ladies Auxiliary on every Board of Trustees; I don't believe that it is wise or desirable that you should deprecate your own role in this picture.

A point I thought I might make as my main subject of discussion with you is the importance of maintaining our voluntary hospital system. This system you may perhaps know is under serious threat. Political expediency appears to dictate the adoption of compulsory hospital plans.

Two of our provinces have already adopted such plans. By and large, of course, I should point out that because of high hospital costs and charges, some form of hospital prepayment is an absolute necessity. The individual who neglects to provide himself with such coverage, is to say the least very reckless. There are two ways in which this prepayment can be achieved. One is by government compulsory plans financed through taxation and the other is voluntary hospital insurance.

We have voluntary hospital insurance in Manitoba and it is the most outstanding successful hospital coverage in Canada. It is the first plan instituted in Canada, eleven years in operation, and in those eleven years this plan has succeeded in enrolling 70% of the population of Greater Winnipeg. It started later in the rural areas of the Province and is now approaching 40% there. We are hoping that as time goes on a larger percentage can be enrolled. That, of course, means even in Greater Winnipeg where 70% are enrolled. The voluntary plan of 100% is impossible. There will always be an element in any population that cannot afford even the modest premium asked for in the voluntary insurance plan.

However, the Manitoba Hospital Service Association submitted to the Government, through the Health Study Commission, a brief offering to provide coverage for 100% of the population on the basis that those able to afford the premium asked for would be covered as at present. For those unable to afford such a premium an administration would be put into effect on municipal authority to be issued to Blue Cross to execute coverage, and that the premium be regarded as a charge on the municipality. Likewise, such Social Welfare cases which are the responsibility of the Provincial Government would be paid for; in that way only the person who deliberately is neglectful and refuses to recognize the necessity of protecting himself and family would remain not covered. This particular individual, one would hope, would be a small minority.

This is a voluntary and free way to do it. This Association, I think, is an example of perhaps the greatest achievement in co-operation in the whole history of Manitoba, and also it has succeeded in doing all this without subsidy and has remained in an actuary sound position. Contrast this with the situation in the two provinces that have embarked on compulsory government hospital insurance; I think it can be readily demonstrated, irrespective of what they have done in the way of the financial cost to the people.

At the Canadian Council meeting in Ottawa last Spring, I asked the pertinent question to the Saskatchewan and British Columbia representatives who were talking at that meeting, what the actual costs were. The answer was, in the previous year, Saskatchewan had spent $12,000,000 on hospitalization alone. That is a lot of money, it is approximately one-quarter of the whole Provincial budget, just on hospitalization.

In British Columbia it was even worse: $40,000,000 in two years has been spent on hospitalization. They, of course, since then have realized it is too rich for their blood and are trying to see what they can do to cut down. No matter how, they will never be able to provide hospitalization as economically as can be done under a voluntary plan.

I am not appealing to the Socialist mind. I have found through experience that such a mind is impervious to argument on this particular subject. If through some disposition of Divine Providence a good fairy would wave her wand and decree that everybody would be provided with hospitalization at no cost to anybody, the Socialist would not buy it. He would say, "The fairy wand is a Capitalist monopoly brought under government control".

There is an important subject which is very pertinent at the moment. The Federal Government, for several years, had a commission studying Health Insurance which includes hospitalization, and I believe in the next session there is going to be a select committee of the House of Commons sitting to deliberate on this subject. Health Insurance is fine, we all agree that it is probably necessary, but under what auspices is an important consideration. Under Government auspices on a compulsory basis; or under Voluntary auspices with possibly government assistance. The situation has developed at such a rate that it is necessary for those who believe in voluntary effort and in a free state to do some missionary work, and being convinced of the essential correctness of this point of view, make it their business to try and convince others. Particularly those of our numbers who, through their positions in legislatures, and municipal councils, can determine the outcome of this particular matter.

I leave this thought with you and would say, incidentally, that this organization is one of the strongest demonstrations of the virtue of voluntary effort, and while it may be that you would have the same enthusiasm and give the same effort to the Government, I think perhaps that it might be open to question. You might be prepared to rest on your laurels and say, "Well, the government has taken over the responsibility, let them to the work and pay for it".

This is not the way to encourage voluntary effort.

With this thought I think I can conclude and express to you again my very great pleasure in being asked to speak to you.

Mrs. Walton of Minnedosa thanked Dr. Trainor on behalf of the Hospital Aids Association for a very inspiring and interesting address and expressed a regret that all the members of the Association were not able to be present.

Mr. John McIntyre of the Municipal Hospitals expressed pleasure in the size of the Convention and brought greetings from the City.

Mr. Peter B. Low's Address:

Mr. Low expressed pleasure in being with the meeting and at seeing so many hospitals aids from the various parts of Manitoba. He proceeded to give a few outstanding points regarding the Winnipeg Foundation.

"You have no doubt heard of the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations and many others through the United States and Canada", he said, "The Winnipeg Foundation is established on a community basis, its work is within the City of Winnipeg and surrounding municipalities, and is carried on through endowments for charitable purposes".

"It started in 1921 by an old banker, Mr. W.F. Alloway, who gave the foundation $100,000. In order to demonstrate to the public the function it performs, I sometimes like to describe the Foundation as community tree. Mr. Alloway planted that tree, and through the passing on to the Foundation of his estate, gave to us $1,650,000. This tree was well supported and many strong branches grew on it. He did not name the Foundation 'Alloway', or the tree would have immediately stopped growing. He named it after the community he loved so much 'Winnipeg' with the result that this tree has no less than eighty-three branches. Through not only the gifts, bequests and donations, but also the estates of many fine citizens of the Province of Manitoba who have passed on to their great reward, the capital of our Foundation is now $3,500,000.

Now, a tree of this description is without value unless it gives fruit. And it does give fruit. Its annual income in 1951 for the first time, has exceeded $100,000 and during this year we will have distributed that entire amount. Over the thirty years we have been in existence, we have distributed $1,750,000 in doing welfare work throughout Winnipeg and its vicinity.

This tree will not stop growing and its fruit is everbearing. It will continue year by year to grow in strength and to give added fruit for the benefit of these very good works. We have one gift that crowns our tree. It is the gift of $15 which stands at the very crown and is the widow's mite and this gift has brooded over our community tree for all these years and has blessed its work.

I sometimes feel that in addition, the reason I have every co-operation is that, you will remember we always have to give a report of ourselves. So when we reach the Pearly Gates and face St. Peter, our good citizens will be asked to give an account of what they have done for their neighbor, their good deeds, and how they have helped the other fellow; and St. Peter will ask our citizens who reach his realm, what have they done for the Children's Aid Society, what have they done for the Children's Aid Society, what have they done for the Children's Hospital, or any other Hospital; what they have done for the Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. and the final question - what have they done for the Winnipeg Foundation, which I have left in the charge of Peter B. Low.

We are happy to receive gifts not only from Winnipeg, but also from other parts, although much of the charitable work seems to concentrate in the larger municipality of Winnipeg. I would just like to say a word in greeting too. You represent a very large group of women who never weary in doing things for the hospitals of Manitoba and we all benefit from your work. May each unit of the Hospital Aids, and each individual in the unit, have the Master's touch in order that your work may progress and fulfill the purposes that you have in view for the hospitals and the individuals who require your help throughout the Province. Our good wishes to you. I know that over a period of time this Association will be an outstanding Association for this Province and I wish you every success."

Mrs. G. Coulter presented a Meritorious Life Membership to Mrs. Blow and her remarks were as follows:

"I would like to thank the members of the Manitoba Hospital Aids for the honor they have conferred upon me in asking me to be a patron of this organization, and for this delightful and interesting luncheon.

I am happy to have the privilege of presenting a Life Membership to Mrs. Blow. I have talked to many other about her services over the years, and have had quite a conversation at the table here. I am sure I know that you all agree that no honor could be more merited than this Life Membership which is going to Mrs. Blow. She has given thirty-two years of her services, which is a long time, performing a completely devoted service to hospitals in her community.

This is the kind of service that is all too often not recognized as much as might be by the public in general.

It is a great pleasure to present this Life Membership to Mrs. Blow which is a token of the great appreciation and esteem of her associates to whom she has given so much."

Mrs. Blow expressed her thanks and assured the association that she desired to do anything she could for the hospitals.

* * * * *

The President gave a message from the Hon. Ivan Schultz, Minister of Health, regretting that he could not attend the Luncheon due to his absence in the Old Country and of his appreciation of the work of the Hospital Auxiliaries in Manitoba. He will try and find time to get information about similar women's organizations in England.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The meeting continued with further reports from the Aids.

The meeting then adjourned so that members could take the Bus provided by the Winnipeg Electric Company through the Kindness of Mr. R.W. Queen-Hughes, to the Princess Elizabeth Hospital for a tour of this beautiful new Hospital.

A delicious afternoon tea was served by the Princess Elizabeth Guild members. Mrs. W.J. Ellinthorpe, President of the Guild received with Mrs. W.P. Fillmore. Over 200 ladies attended.

Mrs. Henry Paul thanked Mrs. Ellinthorpe and the members of the Princess Elizabeth Guild for their kindness in entertaining the Aids at tea.

Mrs. Ellinthorpe then thanked all the rural Aids for their kind donations of afaghans to the hospital.

On a motion from Mrs. H.S. Atkinson of Portage la Prairie and seconded by Mrs. Frances Baird of Swan River a hearty vote of thanks was recorded to the President and Directors for the delightful Presidents Dinner the previous evening.

The meeting continued again, when a report of the Rag Drive was given by Mrs. Stewart Scott from the White Cross Guild.

Report to Manitoba Hospital Aids on White Cross Guild Rag Drive - 1951.

Madame Chairman, Members of the Manitoba Hospital Aids, friends:

The splendid success of our province-wide Rag Drive held in the spring of this year, must, we feel sure, have been as gratifying to you throughout the province as it was to us here in the city, and as chairman of the rural committee, I should like to submit the following brief report:

The Patriotic Salvage Corps and the members of the Automotive Transportation Association were two factors that made this huge undertaking possible; the former in finding a market, handling the rags and making prompt returns, while the latter were indispensable in bringing all these tons of material into the city. We are indeed indebted to both of these organizations.

Seventy-nine centers were contacted through Hospital Aids, Women's Institutes, etc. and as a result, fifty-four hospitals in all benefited. The total amount of money produced from the drive amounted to slightly in excess of $17,000 gross and of this amount, just short of $5,000 went to the country points.

Here in the city we ran a block pick-up plan for one month, canvassed commercial plants such as the large department stores, office buildings, garment manufacturers, etc., and arranged for theatre parties for children in twenty-four of our local movie houses.

The publicity campaign both in the city and throughout the province was most effective, and our very grateful thanks are due to our many good friends here in the city, to the

I.O.D.E., the Junior Red Cross, the Women's Institutes, the Department of Health and Public Welfare, the grain elevators, Manitoba Hotel Keepers Association, the lumber merchants, the Canadian Legion and many others who spread the word throughout the province. For many weeks prior to the drive, the publicity committee worked like beavers, arranging for press items and radio talks, all of which were most effective, and for which we were very grateful.

The wonderful donations of many friends and business firms here in the city enabled the Guild to keep expenses down to a minimum.

As we pointed out to you in our last communication, many mistakes were made in the type of materials sent in. This was natural perhaps in doing it for the first time. Again let us remind you that rubbers, shoes, leather goods of all kinds, straw mattresses, binder-twine clippings, etc. cannot be accepted. As you will have seen by the statements sent you, the dockage was very high, and although we paid it this first time, we feel that we would be unable to do so again. Wool content is most important and of course brings the highest price.

A most unfortunate circumstance arose in regard to Hamiota. Due to difficulty with the local trucker, the rags were held so long that spontaneous combustion occurred - one of the dangers of having any oily rags - and the water used to extinguish the fire made a dreadful mess of the otherwise very large shipment, and resulted in 50% dockage.

The grateful thanks of the White Cross Guild are extended to the following groups - Anola, Dugald, Meadows, Marquette, Hazelridge, Melita and Point du Bois, who turned their proceeds over to the Winnipeg General Hospital.

In closing, the members of the White Cross Guild wish to thank you for taking part so enthusiastically in what we consider has been a splendid effort. We do hope that you are all willing to take part in another one, starting to work on it right now and making it twice or three times as big. It is a very easy way to make money for your local hospitals, as well as for our General Hospital, which in the long view is your hospital too.

Respectfully submitted,

Helen M. Scott
Chairman, Rural Committee.

After some discussion it was thought that the last two weeks in May were the best time for the next Rag Drive.

Address by Mrs. L.W. Houston on St. Louis Hospital Convention:

Madame Chairman and Ladies:-

In case some of you ladies do not know the organization of the White Cross Guild of the Winnipeg General Hospital, I will tell you briefly. We have a governing board and employ an Executive Director who has an office in the hospital. We promote community interest and understanding in our hospital. We relieve nurses of routine work and co-ordinate all volunteer service in the hospital. Also, we make gifts through money raising projects. Our director's work is to train volunteers to give service where service is needed.

To attend the Fourth Annual Conference of American Hospital Association Women's Auxiliaries in St. Louis Missouri was indeed a great pleasure and privilege given to Miss Kathleen Schoenau, our director, Mrs. John B. Nettelfield and myself. The Board allotted a sum of money for our director to attend the conference and also stated that it would be more advantageous if at least two board members could go and take the director by motor. We were all able to complete the trip without any additional cost to the board.

The conference in St. Louis was only the fourth held by this association so you realize it is fairly new. In the fall of 1948 it was decided by a small group of auxiliary women having a conference that they could greatly profit from a National Program, and as the American Hospital Association held a convention annually, it was decided that the Womens' Auxiliaries should be a part of it. By banding together the auxiliaries have improved the effectiveness of their activities and added to their own ingenuity is the knowledge and experience gained by other hospital auxiliaries all over the United States.

Over 400 women attended this conference so you can readily see that it was a wonderful opportunity for us to gain information helpful to our guild.

We listened to speakers on Blood Banks, Volunteers for Civil Defence and for disaster. The disaster programme was most interesting - it was given by the administrator of the hospital that took care of the cases off the train wreck out of New York last year. From this we learned the clearly defined part volunteers could take in such an emergency.

We had a meeting on Projects - most enlightening I can assure you to learn the many ways and means of raising money. Heard Library, Gift Shops and Snack Bars discussed and an excellent talk on membership in Auxiliaries also organization of several and sometimes many guilds or auxiliaries working for one hospital.

An administrator of a hospital gave us excellent information on Hospital Personnel and how volunteers fit into the scheme. Another gentleman spoke on How to Answer Cost Criticism in Your Hospital

We had small group conferences on How To Do It? and Let's Talk it Over. This was information on Projects, Newsletters, Annual Reports, Radio Scripts. One of the most interesting speakers was a well known Director of Public Relations. Out of this, and all meetings I might add, we learned that the auxiliaries first duty to their hospital is Public Relations - money and Gifts are only secondary. All auxiliary members should know their hospital and be able to answer intelligently all questions that the average person might ask. Make your hospital known by knowing it yourself - i.e. How many beds? Laundry and Kitchen problems and statistics. Be able to tell human interest stories and do something personal in the hospital, such as visiting regularly, entertaining the children and long stay patients. Be able to explain different rules of the hospital. There are many ways to "Keep Your Publicity Showing."

You can realize that this was definitely a working conference - morning, afternoon and evening without social entertainment, from Monday to Thursday. The finale was a luncheon, where "Best Annual Report" Certificates were awarded, and we had an excellent address by Mr. Frank Weil of New York City on "Apathy."

At our first Board Meeting on our return, we recommended that the White Cross Guild join the American Womens Hospital Auxiliaries and we were very pleased when it was moved and passed that we so do.

The advantages are - we receive all conference reports and copies of speeches whether we attend or not; - a monthly newsletter is posted giving all activities and projects; - the Committee pool knowledge and experience for compiling into manuals and reports, all of which is available to us. There is a problem-referral service, where we can write the Secretary for any information we require. Thus we will learn more about the three major services performed by auxiliaries; 1. Public Relations, 2. Volunteer Work (which is pertinent to our guild) 3. Fund Raising.

The conference was really inspiring and there was so much to talk about but I won't go on and on. I would like to close with this:

A group of women working together towards a common goal is a very powerful force. When that force is directed at a humanitarian objective like helping hospitals provide the best care for the sick and injured, then it can accomplish wonders. Mr. Weil, our luncheon speaker said, "When women volunteers were working together for their community needs, they were and always would be our country's first defence against Communism and soundest base for our Democracy."

Thank you Madame Chairman for giving the White Cross Guild this opportunity to speak at this dinner meeting thus "keeping our publicity showing."

A vote was taken on the revised constitution which had been sent out to all Hospital Aids and it was moved by Mrs. J.M. Kilgour and seconded by Mrs. W.J. Hunter and accepted unanimously.
